TOKYO Quilt Festival 2020

The world's largest quilt festival include about 400 pieces of exhibition of contestant's best creation, various workshops for beginners to advanced, and famous artists gallery. In addition to that there are many side shops about sewing.

Indigo dyeing Workshop & Japanese Umbrella

Partake in a craft Indigo Dyeing Workshop at this charmingly preserved traditional Japanese street. Shop for rare trinkets and enjoy a traditional "Japanese umbrella making" exhibit along this rustic shopping district.

Kyoto Shibori Museum

You can learn everything about Shibori in the museum. Not only Japanese, but other countries' Shibori as well. Enjoy their exhibitions and make your own Shibori art.

Sashiko Museum

Sashiko, "little stabs", is a Japanese traditional form of decorative reinforcement. This museum is dedicated to modern sashiko artist Akie Sakamoto. The museum itself is very valuable to see. An old house build over 200 years ago was moved to location and remodeled.

Shishu Restoration Studio

The Kyoto Shishu Restoration Studio is dedicated to repairing embroidery and traditional cloth pieces. The Studio is operated by Wakosha, a cleaning company that specializes in Kimono for Buddhist monks.

Misuya Needle

Misuya Needles are a special quality of needles produces by Japanese needle shop Misuya Chubei.

Kubota Itchiku Museum

Kubota Itchiku was a Japanese textile artist who devoted his life in recreating Tsujigahana, a fabric dyeing technique from 15th century. Since that technique was forgotten, he revived the lost art and modernized it at the age of 60. Most of his beautiful crafted kimonos are exhibited in the museum overlooking a stunning Japanese garden.
